

THE CENTENNIAL

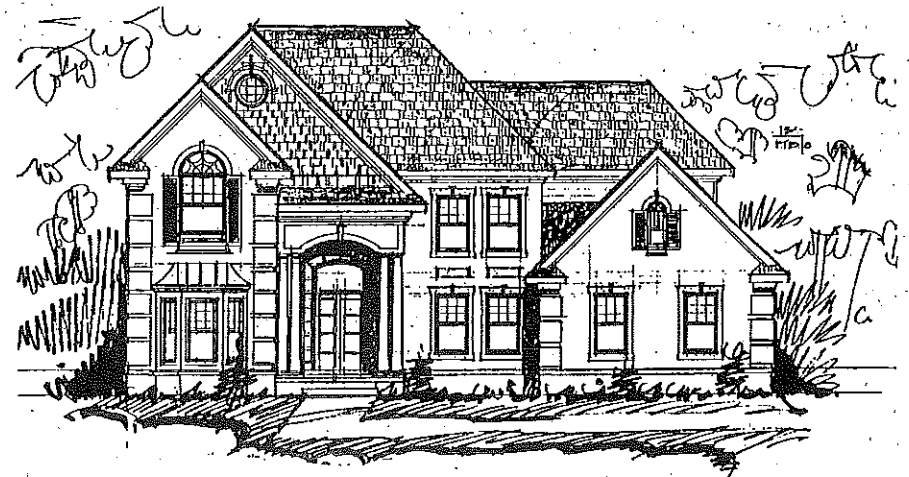

Elevation A

Neoclassical influence graces this elevation with strong columns framing a two-story porch with true-divided glass arched window. A mix of brick and lap siding is accented by shuttered windows and a fan window in the second story gable.

Elevation B

This elevation features an interesting blend of classical elements including a Palladian window over the columned entry pediment and leaded-glass transom. Extensive use of brick and dentil molding provide a timeless elegance.

Elevation C

Asymmetrical design, a recessed entry and column details highlight the tasteful Neoclassical character of this elevation. The extensive use of brick with cedar shake accents, quoin corners, metal roof bay window and circle-top windows further the appeal.
